“Deep learning applications to DBS structural and functional connectivity data in movement disorders: Personalization and prediction of outcomes”
Presented by Dr. Gabriel de Erausquin

Abstract

I will present and discuss data on the use of deep learning strategies to understand the types of connectivity patterns of active deep brain stimulation leads in patients with either essential tremor or Parkinson's disease. I will further discuss the value of connectivity patterns to predict clinical outcomes in both disorders.