Call for Abstracts

We are seeking poster and oral presentation abstracts from individuals who are or would like to be part of a community-campus research partnership. Poster abstract topics are unrestricted; however, preference will be given to community-engaged research projects. Abstracts for oral presentations should address successes and challenges in community-engaged research while upholding diversity, and equity for health research.

Posters will be judged based on (1) abstract relevance including how the community is or could be engaged in your research; (2) information is presented in a clear and concise manner that is easy for both researchers and non-researchers to understand; and (3) the importance and timeliness of the health research topic and findings to both researchers and the community.
